Good Enough For Anybody.

The Ten Business Commandments, as outlined by the Interstate Sand Company, Cleveland.

1. Thou shalt not wait for something to turn up, but shalt pull off thy coat, and go to work that thou mayest prosper in thy affairs and make the word ' "failure" spell "success."

2. Thou shalt not be content ance is better than a letter of recommendation.

3. Thou shalt not try to make excuses, nor shalt thou say to those who chide thee, "I didn't think."

4. Thou shalt not wait to be told what thou shalt do, nor in what manner thou shalt do it.for thus may thy days be long in the job which fortune hath given thee.

5. Thou shalt not fail to maintain thine own integrity, nor shalt thou be guilty of anything that will less thy good respect for thyself.

6. Thou shall not covet the other fellow's job nor his salary, nor the position which he hath gained by his own hard labor.

7. Thou shalt not fail to live within thy income, nor shalt thou contract any debts when thou canst not see thy way clear to nay them.

8. Thou shalt not fail to blow thine own horn, for he who is afraid to blow his own horn at the proper occasion findeth nobody standing ready to blow

9. Thou shalt not hesitate to say "No" when thou meanest 'No," nor shalt thou fail to renember that there are occasi when it is unsafe to bind thyself to hasty judgment.

10. Thou shalt give every man a square deal. This is the last and great commandment, and there is no other like unto it. Upon this commandment dependent all the law and the profits of the business world.

Lee Statue to Stand.

The statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee, in Confederate uniform, recently put in position in Statuary Hall of the Capitol at Washington, will remain there without formal exercises of acceptance by Congress, at least for the present.

When the opposition to accepting the statue made itself manifest on the part of forme soldiers in the Union service, it was announced by those in authority in Virginia that if the statue of Lee was not accepted and it was required to be with drawn from the hall, Virginia would withdraw the companion piece, the figure of Washington. Both of these are fine works of art, done in bronze, the Washington statue being a replica of the plaster figure that stood so many years in Statuary Hall.

After the figures were set un by workmen and the matter of formal ceremonies in connection therewith, became an acute ques tion. Senator Daniel took the subject up with the relatives of Gen. Lee. It was agreed by them that the formal acceptance of the statues was of little concern, and they would be content to leave them in the hall wi hout further ceremony.

This probably will be the program followed, as Congress cannot formally accept the statue of Washington and refuse that of Lee. The resolution of acceptance of the Lee statue probably would pass the Senate, but the leaders believe that in the House it would precipitate endless discussion and possibly fail if it ever came to a vote. Both of these statues, therefore, will be permitted to stand without formal exercises until a period of time has elapsed sufficient to re move the present objections to the Gen Lee effigy.

It will be recalled that the statue of Pere Marquette, one of the contributions of the State of years before, during the sixtieth, Congress, a resolution was passed accepting it. Such a resolution previously had passed the Senate, but not the House.

There are several effigies now in Statuary Hall that remained for years before action was taken by Congress; but all of them finally were officially accepted by Congress after the issues that prevented prompt acceptance had been forgotten. Such, in time, it is believed, will be the Gen. Robert E. Lee.

How to Get Early Lettuce.

Lettuce is a hardy plant, and some varieties will stand considerable freezing, says the Southern Farm Journal. In the Southern States the seed can be sown in the fall and the plants grow in frames] covered with cloth. But north of Virginia there is But north of Virginia there is nothing to be gained by this practice. While the Big Boston, which is as hardy as any of the varieties, may be carried over winter, it will make a slow, tough leathery growth and form, is for eathery growth and form infer-

Nervous Women

For nervous, tired women, we recommend Cardui. Cardui is a woman's medicine. It acts specifically on the female organs and has a tonic, building effect on the whole system. It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes:
"I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years, think 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down aims, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good.
I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.
